CAPABILITIES STATEMENT

COMPANY OVERVIEW

RH Strategies is a veteran-owned, mission-driven firm that provides enterprise-grade Information Technology solutions. The company is led by individuals with decades of Fortune 500 CIO leadership and U.S. military discipline. RH Strategies offers full-stack IT services, including cloud infrastructure, AI/ML platforms, cybersecurity, application development, and analytics. They are prepared to support government primes, act as subcontractors, or engage in pilot projects.

PAST PERFORMANCE

Flowserve Corporation – Pump Configuration Engine Re-write

- Complete re-write of a pump configuration engine, including selection, drawing and design creation, e-commerce front end, and integration to an ERP supply chain system. This was used internally and directly by distributors, driving significant revenue increase due to better response times and ease of use.

Flowserve Corporation – Field Service and Repair Process Application

- Developed an end-to-end application for field service and repair processes using Appian low-code engine. This included mobile intake functionality, customer interface and communications, and integration to the supply chain for ordering parts and invoicing customers. This dramatically improved customer experience and internal efficiency.

Trinity Industries

- Led the seamless relocation of an internal data center to a third-party provider, modernizing infrastructure across networks, disaster recovery, telephony, and security—resulting in improved SLAs and over $1M in annual savings. Also directed the end-to-end technology spin-off of a $2B/year business, ensuring full continuity across data centers, cybersecurity, staffing, and contracts. Both initiatives delivered major operational transformation with zero disruption.
